

Mission Statement

Hunting is a privilege of every Canadian. With this privilege there comes a responsibility, the responsibility to practice hunting in a safe and humane manner.

Like everything in life professionalism comes only through knowledge and experience. To gain this knowledge and experience in safe gun handling and humane hunting a lot of training and education is required.

We found LaserHunt to give hunters an opportunity to gain some of this knowledge and experience. This is not to replace or void the hunter safety education but to support it, especially in the field of safe gun handling and shot placement.

These are the main principles of our business:

1. Be Safe: Do not risk the life and health of yourself and others
2. Respect life: Respect game animals, be a humane hunter, respect hunter ethics, do not allow the unnecessary suffering of game

Through training

Improve your safe gun handling

Improve your marksmanship

Gain knowledge of game physiology (vital zones, no-target-zones)

Know your abilities. Through this knowledge you can do a quick assessment to shoot or not to shoot!
